

Title Blocks

All drawings require a title block to provide proper identification. The title block should be placed in the same position for all drawings of a single project. USITT recommends that the title block be located in the lower right-hand corner of the drawing or drawn as a strip across the bottom of the drawing. Often the right and bottom edges of the border coincide with the same edges of the title block.

